TWENTY-SECOND YEAR.

SHAWNEE'S POLL.

Republicans Have Completed It in This County.

They Figure a Republican Plurality of 5,100.

LEWELLING WILL LOSE

He Will Fall Greatly Behind His Ticket

In This County According to Chairman Elliott's Figures.

The Republican county central committee finished the poll of Shawnee county this morning. The committee is satisfied that it is as complete a poll of the county as has ever been made. Especially is this true with reference to the country, where the vote has been gone over many times, and the total shows that the poll is slightly in advance of the vote cast two years ago, which is but natural. In the city the poll has been more difficult to take, owing to the impossibility of checking it against the registration.

In arriving at their figures, the committee has conceded a greater proportion of the Democratic and doubtful voters to the Populists than they feel they will receive, and yet after making what they consider a generous division the poll shows that the Republicans will have the magnificent plurality of 5,100 votes.

The committee is putting especial stress upon the plurality in the second ward, as the Populists are spreading it all over the state that they will make a gain of 1,000 votes in this ward alone, claiming it has a gain to them from the laboring vote. There is probably no vote in the county is keeping its own counsel more closely than the working man. The plurality in the second ward this year will according to the poll be about 400 as compared with 118 two years ago.

Chairman Elliott is confident that they will be able to maintain the figures given above, basing it on the fact that the voters of Shawnee county are determined to do more than their share in the redemption of the state of Kansas. He says: "A careful investigation shows not the slightest sign of dissatisfaction. In fact the contrary is true, as accessions to the Republican vote are being daily made, and the claims made by the Populists of large gains among the workingmen as also the colored people, is really an insult to the judgment of both these classes of voters."

Governor Lewelling will fall greatly behind his ticket while Major Morrill will run ahead of his, and the gallant Charlie Curtis will so distance his opponent that he will wonder after all whether the people of Shawnee knew he was in the race at all.

BICYCLISTS HAVE RIGHTS.

They Have Just as Much Right to the Public Road as Anybody.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 27.—In a decision just handed down the supreme court gives bicyclists all the rights of the general thoroughfares granted to other vehicles. The test case was that of N. A. Thompson, whose horse ran away at the sight of a bicycle ridden by W. M. Dodge, the buggy of Mr. Thompson being demolished and Mr. Thompson injured. The latter brought the suit for damages, alleging the bicyclist had no right in the road.

Judge Buck says in his decision against Mr. Thompson: "Bicycles are vehicles used not extensively for convenience, recreation, pleasure and business, and the riding of them upon the public highways in the ordinary manner as is now done is neither unlawful nor prohibited. Because the plaintiff chooses to drive a horse hitched to a carriage does not give to him the right to dictate to others their mode of conveyance upon a public highway where the rights of each are equal."

CENTRAL AMERICAN UNION

Plans Being Made to Form a Provisional Republic November 1.

New York, Oct. 27.—A dispatch to the World from San Jose, Costa Rica, says:

The latest plan for bringing about Central American union is to have each of the five republics send two delegates here November 1, who, together, will constitute the first provisional congress which shall establish a provisional republic. The president of one of the republics is to be selected by lot for president of the consolidated republic.

This congress will also create a federal district within the jurisdiction of the president, regulate the federal tax for each republic, and establish the preparation of the army to each command.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The president has appointed John W. Kirk postmaster at Weir, Kan.

THE HUT OUT VOTERS

Came Before the Board of Appeals—Their Cases Considered.

The board of election supervisors met this morning to hear appeals in the cases of men who were refused registration by the commissioner of elections. The board is composed of Police Commissioners Young, Kraus, and Whiting and Commissioner Herald.

The first case was that of George Weaver who had been refused registration because of conflicting stories he told about his age. The old bible was examined closely and the man who made the entry was examined. The board thought the entry genuine and Weaver's name will go on the books.

The next case was that of Ned See an old crippled colored man who repairs shoes in North Topeka.

"Where do you live?" asked Lawyer Gault.

"At 1409 Fillmore street, sah."

"How long have you lived there?"

"Nigh about seven months."

"Which way is Clay street from where you live?"

"It is south, sah."

"Which way is Gordon street?"

"Now, let me see. It is south."

"Do you know the directions, nacle?"

"Yes, I guess I do."

"Well, show us."

"That way is south (pointing east); that way is north (pointing to the north); and that way is west (pointing to the east)."

"I guess you got a little mixed up coming over here, didn't you?"

"Yes, I guess I did. I did get lost coming over here."

The commissioners took the case under advisement to decide whether he could be nursed from registration on account of his lack of intelligence.

James Walker and Will Walker were examined to determine their residence, and both swore that they intended to make Topeka their homes. Their cases were taken under advisement, as were the cases of E. B. Strong and C. L. Pope, Washburn students, who were refused registration.

Rulings This Afternoon.

The board of election supervisors made rulings this afternoon in four cases. Ned See, the old colored man, was refused registration on the ground that he is non compos mentis.

Walker was also refused. The board held their residence is in Council Grove, Strong and Pope, the Washburn boys, were admitted to registration, and Ed Tucker, of North Topeka, was also decided upon favorably. All the men are Republicans.

THE BOOKS ARE CLOSED.

The Number of Voters Who Have Registered Is 8,625.

The registration books were closed last night, the commissioner says a few minutes before 9 o'clock. The books show a registration of 8,625. The number will probably be 100 less when the books are checked up, as that many certificates were destroyed by having the names of those who were refused registration written on them.

Commissioner Herald said this morning: "I closed the books a few minutes before 9 o'clock because there was no one here to register and no one came to register afterward. It is not true that several were waiting to register."

Deputy Whittaker, who has been called all sorts of names during the registration, said: "I do not feel sorry that I refused any one, but I am sorry that I did not refuse more, because there are some registered I now believe were not entitled to registration. I don't care what the Republicans say about me. I tried to do my duty as best I could, and I do not care how much they abuse me. At least 300 men were refused registration. Some of them had never lived in Topeka and some were brought in who are only stopping here for a short time." Others may have been entitled to registration, but they have their cases examined by the board of supervisors.

LOTS OF WOMEN IN IT.

CAPRIVI'S PLACE.

No One Seems to Desire Its Responsibility.

Count Schillingfurst is Offered It but Declines.

THERE WAS FRICTION.

Caprivi's Resignation Caused by Policy Toward Socialists.

The President of the Prussian Council Also Resigns.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The statement that Prince von Hohenlohe-Schillingfurst, governor of Alsace-Lorraine, has been offered the chancellorship resigned by Gen. von Caprivi, as contained in these dispatches last night, is confirmed on good authority, and it is added that the prince has declined to accept the responsibility of that office.

Formerly, Oct. 27.—Prince von Hohenlohe-Schillingfurst, who has been offered the chancellorship resigned by Caprivi, arrived this morning at Strasbourg. He was accompanied by Herr von Kueller, under secretary of the interior for the province of Alsace-Lorraine.

Emperor William met them at the station and drove with Prince von Hohenlohe in an open carriage to the new palace. Herr von Kueller followed in a second carriage with Lieutenant Colonel von Moltke, the emperor's aide-de-camp. Upon arriving at the palace the emperor and Prince von Hohenlohe had a conference regarding the ministerial crisis.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—It is officially announced that the resignation of Edlenberg, president of the Prussian council of ministry, has been accepted.

CAUSE OF CAPRIVI'S RESIGNATION.

Said to Have Been Because of His Policy Toward the Socialists.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—It is known for some time past there has been considerable tension between Chancellor Caprivi and Edlenberg, owing to the former's views in regard to the measures to be submitted to the reichstag for the repression of socialists. The chancellor is in favor of pursuing a moderate policy while Edlenberg believes in the adoption of radical measures to obtain the end sought. It was said that at the recent meeting of the Prussian council, held to consider the question of the repressive measures, a majority of the ministers supported Caprivi's views, but whether or not this is true is greatly a matter of conjecture.

Caprivi is said by his friends to be glad to escape from the chancellorship. He is a moderate man, opposed to extreme views of any kind. Therefore he is well hated in many quarters of the ministry. It is believed the emperor secretly favors strong repressive measures against the socialists and Poles, despite his expression of approval of Caprivi's policy, and that the next chancellor will be called upon to introduce such measures. If so, stormy times are in store for the reichstag.

THE CZAR'S CONDITION

It is Much Improved Over Yesterday's Report.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—The following bulletin was issued today: "The czar passed a fairly good night and his appetite this morning is good. Yesterday's weakness has disappeared. His condition is otherwise unchanged."

MONEY FOR FIREMEN.

Twelve Thousand Dollars to Be Distributed in This State.

State Superintendent of Insurance S. H. Snider today announced that he has received from New York a draft for $12,500 due the state of Kansas from the seventeen fire insurance companies of New York in reciprocal taxes.

This money must, according to the state law, go to the paid fire departments in the state, but there is no law providing for its distribution, and Judge Snider has made a time deposit of the draft until the legislature shall pass a law directing its distribution.

There are a large number of departments in the state, but there is no law directing that there be a large share of this money. There are only half a dozen paid fire departments in the state.

PATTI FINDS A PRODIGY.

Has Found a Wonderful Singer in a Tin-Worker-Theatrical Gossip.

[Copyrighted 1894 by the Associated Press.]

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The continued crusade against granting a "drinking auditorium" license to the Empire theater has attracted the biggest crowds to that place of entertainment ever gathered in a theater. The London county council has sustained the licensing committee in its refusal to grant a license much to the satisfaction of the religious bodies which have been holding special meetings on the subject.

The principal dramatic event of the week will be tonight's premier "Of his Excellency" at the Lyric theater and it may be added that Mr. W. S. Gilbert has provided plenty of stimulating advertisement for this comic opera, which he has written in conjunction with Dr. Osmond Carr.

Grace Hawthorne has gone with a company to India for a tour which may continue around the world. She opened in "Fedora" at Calcutta on November 10 and will follow the Russian story with Sardou's later work "Theodora."

The new prodigy is a tin worker John Williams who has been discovered by Patti and who will be brought out by her at the diva's November concert in Albert hall. Patti says Williams has a wonderful voice.

When the "Queen of the Brillantes" is seen at Abbey's Theater, New York, it will practically be a new piece as far as the libretto is concerned and there will be some numbers of Jakobowski. When Mr. Abbey found upon presentation of the piece here that the book was practically a flat failure he commissioned H. J. Dam to write the new libretto. In this connection Mr. Dam writes to the Associated Press:

"Correcting another's work is a delicate matter, and I have no desire to make capital out of it. I have reconstructed the 'Queen of the Brillantes,' putting in a strong dramatic plot, such as is peculiarly needed. The new numbers include two solo songs for Miss Russell, one of them being a slumber song in which she goes to sleep before the tableau. There are also two new solos for Hubert Wilke and a new duet for him and Miss Russell. My changes have not interfered with the scenic or musical groupings and ensemble movements, which will be given in New York just as they were first seen in London. The piece looks well in its present shape. If I may say so, and Miss Russell and Jakobowski are delighted with it. It only needed some dramatic interest and some comedy, and it has these now. In its present shape, it should give people plenty to talk about."

The action of the London county council in regard to the Empire theater and the decision of Manager Edwards to close the establishment, eclipses all others in London today, even including the German crisis, and the reports regarding the health of the czar. The newspapers of this city devote pages to the Empire theatre question and some of them have editorials upon the subject.

At the end of the performance at the Empire theatre last evening there was a most exciting scene. The vast audience assembled continued standing for half an hour singing and cheering Mr. Edwards and hissing the London county council and Mrs. Orniston Chant of the vigilance association.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

Great Excitement in the Indian Territory Over the Banquet War.

FORT GIBSON, I. T., Oct. 27.—Perhaps at no time in the history of crime and bold outlawry has this country been in such fever of excitement and universal dread as at the present time.

Martial law has been declared and is enforced strongly at every point in the nation. There are today nearly 4,000 troops in the field, and the approach of the stronghold of the outlaws from the east and north, while Agent Wisdom's force of Indian policemen are investigating the country towards the west.

A large force of United States marshals, under command of H. H. Butler, have been sent into what is supposed to be the home of the gang, near Red Fork, as it is here that the people in general are friendly to them and assist them in every way.

A strong force is kept on guard at all depots on the Missouri Pacific.

Deputy United States Marshal Dobson who with his posse has been out two days, has just come in and says he and his men were close to Jim French, Sam McWilliams, Will Harlan and two more of the Cook gang, but after a twelve hour chase they were compelled to give up as the desperadoes were completely worn out. He is of the opinion that the gang separated and is scattered all over the country.

CAN CLEVELAND VOTE.

It is Reported He Can't Do It in New York.

New York, Oct. 27.—The most interesting piece of news at the Democratic state headquarters in the Park Avenue hotel today was the statement by a prominent politician, who did not wish his name mentioned in connection with it.

He quoted Francis Lynde Stetson as having said that President Cleveland recently requested the law firm of which Mr. Stetson is a member, to give him a written opinion regarding his right to vote in this state. This opinion was prepared, it was said, and was to the effect that Mr. Cleveland was no longer entitled to vote in New York. For this reason it was decided the president decided not to attempt to register.

At the law office of Stetson, Tracy, Jennings & Russell, Mr. Howard Van Sinderen, a member of the firm, was seen by a reporter of the Associated Press with reference to the foregoing statement. He said: "So far as I know President Cleveland has made no request for such an opinion; Mr. Cleveland is a New York lawyer and as such would be fully cognizant of his rights. He may have consulted with individual members of the firm, as friends, but of course that I know nothing of."

Big Boston Failure.

VOTERS IN SWARMS

Turn Out to Meet McKinley in New York.

Great Demonstrations for Him Everywhere.

AT ALBANY A CROWD

Of Three Thousand Hear the Protection Leader

At the City Hall—A Rapid Tour.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The tour of Gov. McKinley this morning was through the lovely valley of the Mohawk, which was covered by a thick bank of fog. It was not 7 o'clock when the special train drew into Little Falls, but the town was astir and the booming of cannon summoned the people to the depot, where the governor spoke from a stand covered with decorations. There were not less than 2,500 men in the audience. McKinley had a special word for the operatives from Gloversville.

"When we prepared the tariff law of 1890," he said, "we put a tariff on imported gloves, knowing that we would thereby secure for you steady employment at good wages. I now ask you whether the tariff did not accomplish this?"

A chorus of "Yes" was the answer.

At Amsterdam over 3,000 expectant people greeted the governor. Mr. McKinley spoke from a platform behind which was a life-size picture of himself marked "McKinley Bill," accompanied by the mute announcement, "This Bill brings prosperity to Amsterdam."

At Schenectady, not less than 4,000 people gathered about the platform of the car. In closing, McKinley said, "I see that Mr. Hill says that business is resuming in this country since the passage of the tariff law of 1894. Every man in this audience knows whether business has resumed, and if it has resumed, upon what conditions that resumption has taken place. If we have had any resumption, and I hope we have had it, I submit that resumption has been upon a lower plane with lower conditions, with lower wages and lower prices for American products. Is not that so?"

"Cries of 'yes! yes!'"

Colonel Fred Grant still remains with the party.

Governor McKinley was escorted from the train upon his arrival here to the city hall, where a stand had been erected and three thousand people were waiting to hear him. He spoke on the tariff issue and incidentally suggested a joint debate upon that question between Senators Hill and Murphy. The former had voted against and the latter for the Wilson bill. The next stop will be at Hudson.

A wash house is being built at the home to accommodate the workers on the weekly wash days and it will be a very commodious one. It will be twelve feet high, and 18x14 feet in size. Almost everything for this wash house has been donated. If it had not been it would have cost about $150.

During the months of September and October the following donations were received by the home:

Mrs. Harvey, one package Jersey coffee; two watermelons, Mr. Child, Interstate Mills, Willis Norton, 500 pounds flour; Mid Continent Mills, Thomas Price, 200 pounds flour; Central Mills, J. B.
